DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 28 November 2001 has been considered by the examiner.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1, 3, 4 and 25 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over respective claims 1, 15, 22 and 8 of U. S. Patent No. 6,356,001 (US '001) since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in claim 1 of the instant application is fully disclosed in claim 1 of the US '001 patent (recited below in boldface) and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

US '001 Claim 1

An electric vehicle comprising:

an axle,
wheels supported on said axle,
a drive unit for rotating said axle,
a power supply unit for feeding
electric power to said drive unit, wherein said drive unit includes a motor,
said motor includes a stator core having a plurality of core elements and said stator core has $3n$ teeth, where n is a natural number,
a concentrated winding applied over each tooth part of said plurality of core elements and a rotor including $2n$ permanent magnets.

Applicant's Claim 1

An electric vehicle comprising:

an axle,
wheels supported on said axle,
a drive unit for rotating said axle,
a power supply unit for feeding
electric power to said drive unit,
wherein said drive unit includes a
motor,
said motor includes a stator core,
said stator core has $3n$ teeth, where n is a natural number,
a concentrated winding applied over each tooth part of said teeth, and a rotor including $2n$ permanent magnets.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

5. Claim 26 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over respective claim 22 of U.S. Patent No. 6,356,001. Although the conflicting claims are not identical (US '001 does not include "an engine" as part of the drive unit, they are not patentably distinct from each other because to include an engine on a electric vehicle is a well known application of the claimed electric motor in a hybrid vehicle.

Claim Objections

6. Claim 4 is objected to because of the following informalities: Recitation "a portion supply unit" (line 5) appears to be a typographical error and should be ---a power supply unit---. Appropriate correction is required.
